Under the California Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986 (known as Proposition 65 or "Prop 65"), the State of California creates and updates annually a list of chemicals known by the State of California to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity ("Prop 65 List").

Prop 65 requires "clear and reasonable" warnings to be given if, in the course of doing business, a person knowingly and intentionally exposes an individual in California to a chemical on the Prop 65 List. Prop 65 also prohibits knowingly discharging or releasing a chemical on the Prop 65 List such that it is likely to, or will, enter any California drinking water source.

The Proposition 65 chemicals list can be found at:
<https://oehha.ca.gov/proposition-65/proposition-65-list>

Certain Senseair AB's products and evaluation kits may contain one or more chemicals listed in California Proposition 65 (mainly lead and nickel in electronics components). These chemicals are embedded in the homogeneous material and are not intended to expose any person during normal product use. Accordingly, the Prop 65 "clear and reasonable" warnings requirements do not apply to Senseair AB products and evaluation kits.

Senseair AB has taken commercially reasonable steps to provide representative and accurate material content information. Senseair relies on information provided by third parties and may not have conducted destructive testing or chemical analysis on incoming materials and chemicals. Supplier information is often protected from disclosure as trade secrets and some information may not have been provided by subcontractor assemblers and raw material suppliers. Senseair does not provide any warranty, express or implied, with respect to the information provided in this declaration. This declaration does not modify Senseair's terms and conditions of sale of its products or the terms of any agreement under which customers purchased Senseair's products. Senseair's terms and conditions of sale or the relevant agreement, as applicable, shall continue to apply.
